Started in January 2003, a deeply personal and spiritual series of original watercolor paintings designed to uplift, inspire and nurture. Each painting features a letter, word and related Scriptural passage. The series consists of twenty-three paintings.

My art is a composite of life experiences, fusing at a given moment to create an interpretation and an expression of single moments and simplified subjects. I am a linear artist, enjoying the challenges of boundary edges, order and a separation of the subject from the background context.

I have a sacramental view of the world around me. I see God's touch in everything, giving the ordinary an extraordinary power, beauty and simplicity.

I hope those pausing to view the series will find a moment in time and place to meditate, rejoice, give thanks and turn their hearts towards God.

Soli Deo Gloria
